ArtServe Festival October 2017

Come and join us for a weekend of imagination, discovery, fellowship and prayer.

This year, we want our Festival to be a celebration of the talent that already exists within ArtServe. We pride ourselves on being a creative, mutually supportive community, longing to help each other release our creative gifts so that God may be more fully known and lives transformed. So we invite you to come and share your own creative gifts and experience those of fellow members as we explore together how we may use creativity to deepen our prayer lives and help others to do the same.

The Hayes, Swanwick – a great venue for our weekend.

We will be asking all who are attending to bring something with them that inspires them to pray – something they will be willing to show to others and talk about in the small groups on Friday evening.

Our weekend will be structured round the theme of a journey and has been planned with three aims in mind:

- To nourish the creative spirits of all our members, particularly those who find little support or encouragement in their home situation or ministry;
- To enable us to learn from and share with each other in community;

- To come away with something – an idea or an insight – that we can use once we are back in our own churches and daily lives.

Artist and Board Member Anita Collier will lead us in a creative activity that will give a structure to the weekend.

Anita is no stranger to leading sessions at festivals – she is a regular at Spring Harvest where she paints, leads workshops and inspires delegates of all ages. Her work has featured on the ArtServe Facebook page and the cover of the Spring 2016 issue of ArtServe magazine.

Our chaplains for the weekend will be the Reverend Nick Young – a longstanding ArtServe member who many of you will know – and our Prayer Coordinator, Pauline Munns. Nick will lead an (optional) prayer walk on Saturday (weather permitting this will be in the beautiful grounds at The Hayes), and will also lead our closing worship on Sunday. Jacqui Hicks and Jo Kay will facilitate a session on using the labyrinth as an aid to worship and there will also be opportunities to discover worship through dance, music, painting and creative writing. Facilitators include Jo Richards (who is a member not only of ArtServe, but also of The Christian Dance Network) and Kate Austin, ArtServe member, artist and author.

Practical details

The weekend's programme

Friday 20 October

Arrive at The Hayes from 4.00 pm onwards, to register and settle in your room. At 5.30, we meet in small groups to get to know each other and share our expectations for the weekend. Everyone will be invited to bring something from home with them – something that inspires them to pray – so that they can show it and share ideas with the other group members.

All groups meet together for dinner at 6.45. After this, Anita will reveal to us what the first stage of our journey will be. There will be time for making music and worshipping together before we disperse to our rooms or to the bar.

Saturday 21 October

We start the day with (optional) morning prayer, followed by breakfast. After this the day will be divided between sessions for everyone, during which Anita will continue guiding us through our journey of prayerful creativity, and smaller groups where you can choose which creative activities are most helpful for facilitating your own prayer life. The aim is for everyone to have the opportunity to engage in at least two activities of their choice, so we are asking you to pick four activities given from the list on the booking form and to rank them in order 1-4. This will give us an idea of how best to schedule activities in order to allow everyone the best possible experience and to see whether some sessions need to be run twice. The earlier we receive this information, the more likely you are to be able to participate fully in your preferred activities.

During the afternoon, we will break for ArtServe's AGM. After dinner there will be an opportunity to watch Su Hallcroft perform her one-woman play 'Chosen' and a chance to ask her some questions before repairing to the bar.

Sunday 22 October

Once again, optional early morning prayer is followed by breakfast. We then divide into small groups to prepare for the closing worship. After a break for coffee, Sarah Middleton (a Trustee of the Methodist Art Collection) will talk about how we might make use of image in worship. There will also be time to finish our creative activities. The climax of the weekend, our closing worship and celebration, will take place after lunch and we will be ready to depart around 4.00 pm.
